Counselling. A note to all Part 2 and Part 3 Students:

As a graphologist it is likely that you will have to deal with people who have emotional or psychological problems. It is therefore recommended that all students spend at least a full weekend (or the equivalent) on a counselling course before taking the final exam. However, this is a recommendation and not a requirement for the Diploma.

SECTION 1

The requirements for each exam are outlined below. The exams are held annually and there is no time limit set between the three parts.

PART 1

BASIC PRINCIPLES of GRAPHOLOGY

Section A To be completed at home

Over a four week period the student will be asked to assess two samples of handwriting by completing a full set of B.I.G. worksheets* and producing a report of 500 - 800 words for each sample provided, under exam conditions.

Section B Three hour written paper in London (See General Exam Information, No. 3)

The student will be asked to assess one sample of handwriting by completing a set of Part 1B worksheets, under exam conditions.

9 B.I.G. WORKSHEETS

The B.I.G. has standardised worksheets and requires that all students use these for the exams. These are designed to help you work methodically through the technical process of analysis that precedes the writing of a graphological report.

B.I.G. Worksheets are available by download from the organisation website:

<https://www.britishgraphology.org/wp-content/uploads/2019/01/BIG-Worksheets-2019.pdf>

10 HILLIGER ASSESSMENT GUIDELINES (H.A.G.)

The Hilliger Assessment Guidelines summarise how handwriting movements should be assessed, and set out the criteria by which your technical work will be assessed by the examiners. Comments in italics are intended to draw your attention to mistakes commonly made by students.

You will probably be aware that there are several schools of graphology and that graphologists use different methods. The method approved by the B.I.G. is the one used by Francis Hilliger and other founder members of the B.I.G. While the B.I.G. recognises the validity of other systems, this is the method you must use if you want to pass the B.I.G. exams and gain the qualification M.B.I.G. (Dip.)

The B.I.G. syllabus sets out everything that is required at each level, and the B.I.G. worksheets show the structure of the technical procedure. Particularly in Part 1 it is essential that you follow this specific method, since most marks are allocated to the technical part of the analysis.

B.I.G. Hilliger Assessment Guidelines are available by download from the website:

<https://www.britishgraphology.org/wp-content/uploads/2019/11/Hilliger-Assessment-Guidelines-2020-1.pdf>

11 SAMPLE EXAM PAPERS

"Sample Answers" booklets are compiled from candidates' papers that serve as an example of what is required at each stage. Please note that these papers have been chosen because they are examples of good passes, so may not be recent, and you should be aware that they may contain errors. If in doubt, consult your tutor or the Education Officer. Sample Answers booklets are available from your Tutor.

ADVICE for the NEWLY QUALIFIED

Once you have acquired your Diploma, you may be wondering about the way forward. This is particularly the case if you would like to start your own business, so hopefully this information sheet will guide you in the right direction.

POST-GRADUATE MENTORING

This is offered by some tutors and deals with a variety of issues related to:

- Delivering a Talk / Lecture on an aspect of Graphology
- Tutoring students (course work and exam preparation)
- Dealing with Client requests
- Dealing with Client response to assessment report
- Preferred fields of specialisation (e.g. personal analysis, occupational assessments, education)

See website for details: <https://www.britishgraphology.org/education/the-b-i-g-directory-of-tutors/>

POST-GRADUATE TRAINING: VERBAL ANALYSIS

Training in the delivery of a verbal analysis is offered by a specialist Graphologist. Newly qualified Graphologists who wish to learn this skill can do so via Skype sessions.

To be able to provide a 'Snap-Analysis' (on-the-spot) is an important advantage to modern Graphologists.

For further details please contact: John Beck, FBIG (DIP): jab@britishgraphology.org

FURTHER QUALIFICATION: QUESTIONED DOCUMENT EXAMINATION (QDE)

Questioned Document Examiners are forensic scientists who evaluate documents disputed in the legal system by verifying their authenticity. Details are listed on p.18.

EXAM PREPARATION GUIDANCE

Whether you are experienced at sitting exams or not it is important to prepare carefully, not only technical content but also exam technique generally. With this in mind we offer the following suggestions:

General

- * Obtain 'Sample Answers' booklets from your Tutor and work through them yourself, checking answers and, if in doubt, verifying them with your tutor as they may contain errors.
 - N.B. In particular please note that whilst some 3A 'model' papers may have earned good marks, they are often far too long and much shorter reports are now recommended.
- * Study the syllabus and read the exam instructions carefully before you start work.
- * Before each exam, ask your tutor to organise a mock exam for you under exam conditions. This is especially important for the timed 3B exam.
- * Continue to be meticulous with all technical work and use the B.I.G. worksheets, in particular noting which sections are required for Part 3 exams.
- * A paper copy of all your work should be sent by post to the Exam Administrator in time to arrive by the date specified. If possible, an electronic copy in .pdf format should also be sent. Overseas candidates may be allowed additional time by arrangement to return the paper copies.

Part 3A REPORTS - General

- * Presentation is important, so reports should look professional and be typed.
 - Check spelling, grammar and formatting, and include appropriate covering letters.
- * Focus on information required by the client and that is relevant to the question, and avoid repetition. Background information (e.g. relating to psychological history) should not be included in business reports unless specifically requested by the client. For other reports use your discretion as to its usefulness to the client.
- * Excessive length should be avoided, especially for a business report, so 1,000 words is usually enough. Please note that some model papers are much too long and shorter reports are recommended.
- * In the real world you may be asked to give a verbal report or to include a recommendation in a letter, so be prepared to present some of your material in the form of additional notes.
- * Specific requirements will be clearly stated in the questions.

BUSINESS REPORTS - Special Notes

- * Personnel Selection. The examiners will require the report for this question to be succinct and to the point, and no more than 1,000 words.
- * Additional notes. In addition to the report, you will be expected to prepare notes to explain the background to the points you have made in the report. These may be in the form of bullet points, charts or any notes such as you might make for yourself or could use to refer to if asked for further information or clarification by a client.

- * Word limit. The maximum number of words allowed for this question will be 5,000 words in all, including the report, the covering letter and additional notes. Please note that any surplus information will not be taken into account. Please state the number of words used.

This format is designed to help you work more efficiently and meet business requirements in the modern world.

N.B. A similar format could be used for other types of report.

Part 3B

- * Allocate time for each section of the exam, allowing extra time at the end to check all your work.
- * Put your candidate number on each page, also the number of the question.
- * Start each question on a separate sheet of paper and number all pages.
- * Answer the specific questions asked and follow instructions carefully.
- * Attempt all the questions if possible. If you are short of time an answer in note form may be sufficient.
- * All correlations between personality traits and graphological indicators should be clearly stated.
- * Ensure that you have with you all the equipment you may need. Spare paper will be provided.
- * Drinks are allowed, but not food.
- * You may keep a small handbag with you, but not large bags.

N.B. The use of works of reference is not permitted in this exam.

QUESTIONED DOCUMENT EXAMINATION

Although Questioned Document Examination can form part of a graphologist's expertise, the scope of the subject is so wide that it has been decided not to include it as part of the Part 3 exam syllabus. It is vital that graphologists involved in such work are well prepared, have a good understanding of legal and courtroom procedures, and have relevant qualifications in this field.

The following suggestions have been prepared to help anyone interested in following this line of work.
